ANOTHER CONTRACT STEAL. The bid of Sullivan was 11 cents higher accompanied with a proposition to give any bond required as a guaranty for the fulfillment of his contract. Here Warden Patten became very much excited again and insisted on making a statement, which he was permitted to do by the committee. He said that John S.

Sullivan was the largest manufacturer of saddletrees in the United States, and probably in the world, and had made the bid for the purpose of keeping up the prices of saddle-

trees, and further, that from letters received by himself both he and the directors doubted the good faith of his bid

The Senator seemed embarrassed when his attention was called to the fact that the

Mr. Sullivan in this transaction, rectors that Sullivan was willing to put up a forfeit, in any bank named by the directors to make his bid good, and for the faithful fulfillment of the contract

when entered into. He further said that when he appeared before the commit-final action was taken. A resolution was adopted calling on the Secretary of the Interior for information as to whether manufacturers and refiners of sugar have refused to answer questions propounded to them by census officials, and, if so, what steps have been taken to compel them to answer. The House then resumed, in committee of the whole, consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill. When the paragraph making appropriation to con-tinue the building of the library of Con-gress was reached. Mr. Enloe moved an amendment providing that the chief of engineers shall award all contracts for material to the lowest responsible bidders, and the preference shall be given to home over foreign products, when material of equally good quality of home production is offered at equal or lower prices.

Mr. Cogswell hoped that the amendment would be adopted, because it involved such good Republican protective doctrine. The amendment was adopted.

In speaking to a formal amendment Mr. Bland gave notice that he would demand in the House a yea and nay vote on the amendment relative to marble for the congressional library. It was plain to him that a Democratic House which was opposed to protection should not put itself up in favor of Tennessee marble, and in oppo-sition to Italian marble. It was a protect tionist proposition.

Mr. Buchanan, of New Jersey, thanked God that this Democratic House, even in a moment of forgetfulness, had done au American thing. [Laughter.]

Mr. Enloe said that the gentleman from Missouri had misinterpreted his amendment. It did not contain any provision for the use of Tennessee marble, nor did it contain any principle of protection. Its purpose was to put the American citizen on an equal footing with the foreigner. Mr. Outhwaithe-Does not the amendment give the domestic marble the advantage of the 35 per cent. that is suggested? Mr. Reed-Are you really Democratic? Mr. Enloe-I do not wish my Democracy impugned by any ruler from Maine. Mr. Outhwaite offered an amendment ap-

Fishery Investigation of Great Importance to the United States and Canada.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.-Richard Rathbone, assistant commissioner of fisheries, and Mr. Wakeman, of Canada, commissioners appointed on the part of the United States and Great Britain to determine and settle all questions arising out of the fishertes on the great lakes and contignous waters of Canada, will soon begin this important work. The investigation will be the most extensive that has ever been attempted, and valuable statistics will be secured. It is expected that the work will require two years. When an agreement as to regulations between the commissioners is reached it will be submitted to their respective governments for approval. A treaty will then be drafted and submitted for ratification.

The Quarantine Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 .- In the Senate, today, Mr. Harris reported from the committee on e idemic diseases the House quarantine bill with a substitute, being the bill passed by the Senate some weeks ago, with the eighth section omitted. This section made an appropriation of a million dollars, and Mr. Harris's explanation of its omission was that under the House rules a bill or amendment containing an appropriation would have to go to a committee, and he wished to have that delay and obstruction avoided. He asked to have the substitute agreed to now and have a conference ordered. At the request of Mr. Hill the substitute went over till to-morrow. The fortification appropriation bill was taken up. The remainder of the day was consumed in considering the fortification appropriation bill.

Amendment to the Nicaragua Canal Bill. WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator Higgins introduced in the Senate to-day an amendment to the Nicaragua canal bill, providing that none of the bonds provided for shall be issued to the company until the President of the United States is satisfied that the canal, with all its accessories, can be completed for the safe, convenient and economical navigation from ocean to ocean of both mercantile and naval vessels of the largest size and at a cost not exceeding the gross proceeds of the $100,000,000 of bonds, including the amounts already expended. Prison Committee Digs Into Rich Eviidence of Fraud or Incompetency.

Low Bid for 4,000,000 Brick Thrown Out Without Any Cause, and Convicts Let to Dennis & Claggett for 55 Cents a Day.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 31.-The Senate and House investigating committee of the Prison South resumed its labors at 2 o'clock this afternoon. On the trip from Indianapolis the committee took advantage of the leisure to examine James A. VanOsdal, ex-assistant prosecuting attorney of Switzerland county. It was Mr. VonOsdal who prosecuted Thomas Eaglin, of Vevay, and bad him sentenced to the prison for four years. He testified, on direct examination, that the reputation of Thomas Eaglin, who has already testified in the investigation about the cruelty of Warden Patten, was bad in the community where he lived, and that he was at presemt under a suspended sentence for arson. Upon crossexamination he admitted that Eaglin had committed no overt act since his release from prison, and that the arson he was charged with was committed before hi propriating $50,000 for the redemption of | imprisonment. He further testified that his present reputation in Vevay was on account of acts committed before his sentence to prison. Dr. H. S. Wolfe, of New Albany, ex-prison physician, testified that the warden several times ordered men back to work, after he had examined them and pronounced them unfit for work.

He further said that it was the innate disposition of the warden to "run things." and that several times he remonstrated with the warden for interfering with his (the physician's) duties, but to no purpose. The prison record of punishment | under certain circumstances. If the Govwas here introduced, showing that seventy had been punished by the whip or strap, twelve by being handcuffed by the wrists to the range, and eleven by being tied up by the thumbs.

John W. Coons, one of the experts ex amining the books, testified that, as far as he had examined, the books tal hed with the warden's reports and vouchers. Although the warden was chargeable with $24,415.04, of which a large proportion was a continuing fund on deposit in bank, he had accounted for no interest received.

QUEER BRICK CONTRACT. Concerning the contract for brick in the construction of the new wall, Mr. Lindemuth offered in evidence the record of the minutes of the proceedings of the directors, which disclosed the fact that in February, 1892, the warden advertised for sealed proposals for 1,000,000 brick to be delivered at the prison. Among other bidders Bart Dean filed a bid, offering to furnish the brick at $6 per thousand, delivered on the ground. His bid being the best, or lowest, the contract was awarded him, and the warden was directed by the board of directors to enter into a contract with Dean. The contract was duly executed and signed, but at the time the bids were received the board of directors was guilty of gross mismanagement in not requiring of the bidders a preliminary bond. The bids, however, were made in good visit was primarily on business. While faith, and the contract was legally and regularly awarded the successful bidder. The record further shows that in April 1892, before the time for the performance of Dean's contract had arrived, without having advertised for or received any new and without making any effort whatever to compel the ecution of a bond by Dean without asking to see whether or not Mr. Dean would meet the requirements of his contract, the directors entered into a contract with Mitchell Brothers, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., for the furnishing of one millbrick of the same kind and quality as those described in the Dean contract and agreed to and paid therefor $7.50 per thousand, making a total loss to the State on the 1,000,000 brick of $1,500. Mr. Lindemuth stated that Mr. Dean was a resident of Louisville and engaged in business in that city, that was impossible for him to be present at the prison, and that although be had been subpensed, he could not be compelled to attend, but that sub-committee could be appointed he would meet it at the Galf House in Louisville Tuesday evening and lay before it all the facts relating to the bid and contract. Mr. Lindemuth said that if such subcommittee were appointed to take testimony Dean would swear that when he filed his bid he stated the warden that he had a bond signed by responsible parties guaranteeing the good faith in which the bid was made; that he tendered said bond to the warden, but was told that the filing of it was unnecessary. This he followed by making a motion that a committee of three be appointed, two Democrats and one Republican, together with the stenographer, repair to the Galt House, in Louisville, at 8 o'clock and hear the testimony of Mr. PATTEN MAKES A BLUFF. Here Representative Lindemuth was interrupted by Warden Patten, saying that he would give anybody $1,000 who would swear to that, and phasized his statement by pounding the desk. Warden Patten further said that when Dean testified he wanted to be present. Thereupon Senator Loveland and Representative Lindemuth. for the minority committee, consented that Warden Patten might be present and make as thorough examination as he saw fit. After a prolonged discussion the motion to appoint a sub-committee was carried. At this point Warden Patten proceeded to again demonstrate his peculiar fitness for the responsible position which he occupies by flying into a violent rage. swinging his arms, shaking his fists at Mr. Lindemuth and the Republicans generally. and between paroxysms of anger, which almost choked his utterance, demanding that the investigation proceed upon the specific charges made in the Indianapolis Journal, and that the examination be limited to those who could be brought within the prison walls. He then asked the committee if they no sympathy for a man. and demanded the investigation, which termed a persecution, should cease. Seemingly frightened by this display, several of the Democratic committee to their feet and a reconsideration of vote, and notwithstanding the earnest protest of Senator McDonald (Dem.) and the Republican members of the committee they proceeded at once to reconsider the vote and voted it down, thus crawfishing out of their short spasm of virtue and refusing to hear the evidence of Mr. Dean. DEATH RATHER THAN PRISON.

Tragic Suicide of Louis Bender, the Captured Fugitive from the Prison South. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 31.-Louis Bender, a convict in the Prison South, committed suicide in a horrible manner last night. He set fire to the mattress and then threw himself thereon face downward, suffocating after three or four involuntary screams that were forced from him by the agony of his suffering. Bender was sent up only three years for petit larceny in December, 1892, but preferred death in this prisonment. It will be remembered that only about three weeks ago Bender made a most daring attempt to escape. He fled to New Albany and, divesting bimself of his coat and shoes, attempted to cross the river on the ice. Through this he broke and plunged into the icy water, but managed to reach the Kentucky shore and ran to Shippingport, Ky., where he was arrested and brought back to prison. The guards were attracted to the cell last night by the screams and by the flames that leaped out through the grated door. As quickly as possible the fire was extinguished, but too late to save the unfortunate criminal. He died about midnight. Bender was thirty years old and had a family.

BEAUTIFUL SALLIE MADDEN Tells How Her Accepted Lover Was Murdered by His Vengeful Rival.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VINCENNES, Ind., Jan 31.-To-day Coroner Canry began his inquest upon the murder of George Doane by Charles Bohannon, which occurred Sunday afternoon in the lower part of Knox county. The evidence adduced so far is of a very incriminating character, and shows the murder to have been premeditated and unprovoked. Miss Sallie Madden, daughter of Elijah Madden, over whom the tragedy occurred, was interviewed by your correspondent, to whom she said that Bohannon had told her a week before that he would kill Doane. Bohannon, who had been in the employ of Mr. Madden, fell desperately in love with Miss Sallie, who is a very beautiful girl, sixteen years of age. She gave him no encouragement. Bohannon asked her if she intended to encourage the visits of Mr. Doane. The maiden replied that she did, and that she and Doane were betrothed. "Then," replied the rejected suitor, "I will kill George Doane the first time he comes on the farm." Sunday afternoon Doane made his usual call. Bohannon, when he saw Doane coming and saw the girl trip down to the gate to meet her lover, took his revolver and left the house. He walked straight down to where the lovers stood and deliberately shot his rival just as he was about to enter the yard. The girl caught Bohannon's arm and tried to prevent the shooting, but the desperate

Her husband is employed in the transmission of nitroglycerine over this gas-belt in a wagon, and with which he shoots gas wells. There are but few men so venturesome as to engage in this dangerons work, and they command exorbitant salaries. Mr. Walters arrived here a few days since, from Lima, O., with a wagon-load of the explosive. He had a well to shoot near Muncie, and the wife expressed a desire to accompany her husband. She did so, and, when there, expressed a desire to go even further and accomplish a feat that no other woman had ever done, that of shooting the well. Her husband finally consented, and with great caution the little woman carried the deadly stuff to the hole, lowered it, and, after dropping the "go-devil," or iron slug, she had finished her work and ran from the well to await results. In a few seconds the report shook mother earth and a gusher gas well was the result. The strong men who stood at a good distance watched every movement of the nervy little woman with great anxiety. Had she dropped one of the cans or made the least false motion she would have been blown to atoms.

THE OHIO ICE GORGE

Sweeping Past Jeffersonville with Force, Carrying Barges and Wharves with It. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Jan. 31 .- The ice gorge above the city broke last night and has been passing over the falls all day in crashing, grinding mass. Every preparation had been made for the break last night, but when the huge mass came crashing down on the coal fleet last night, ropes and chains were snapped like strings, and many of the barges were crushed and sunk or torn from their moorings and swept over the falls. The towboat Hotspur was badly damaged, but the other steamers were safe in the canal. Thirty loaded barges, containing 25,000 bushels of coal each, and 130 empty barges, were either swept away or sunk. The loss will aggregate $150,000. The river has risen rapidly, and no further trouble is anticipated.

The head of the Cincinnati gorge reached here to-night. The river is still rising, but it is believed that the worst is over. A conservative estimate of the damage up to date is as follows: Thirty loaded barges. $50,000; 130 empty barges, $100,000; Hotspur damaged, $500; Sid, $200; Jeffersonville. $100; Kram er's sunken barge. $200; Clara B., $50; Walton & Co., damaged floats, $500 Seebold, barge sunk and float damaged 3500; M. Recovered - sound health for every consumptive who hasn't delayed too long. There's a positive cure with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Just as it cures the worst of the many forms of scrofula, so it cures, and just as certainly, the scrofulous affection of the lungs that's called Consumption—through the But, even with this remedy, it won't do to wait. It can't make new lungs, bu it can make diseased ones healthy when nothing else will. As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder, there's nothing like it known to medical science. For Scrofula in all its forms, Bronchial Throat, and Lung affections, Weak Lungs, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and every disease that can be reached through the blood, it's the only remedy so unfailing that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back. On these terms, it's an insult to your intelligence to have something else offered being "just as good."
